

Exhibit 1: Stillwater Mill Complex in Burrillville

The Stillwater Mill Complex has potential, but has dilapidated buildings. The larger mill building has three floors, though some areas are one or one-and-a-half stories. Weeds are growing rampant in the parking lot and around the buildings. Note trash, wood and metal waste, barrels. The mill is partially occupied with an automobile repair shop, merchants selling old, abandoned items, and a gym. Photos by Niverio Carvalho
